

You are from Mars

The Martians are very sociable.

The Martians are very active and love to talk to foreign people.

The Martians do not speak to other people for a long time. After speaking to someone briefly they move on to another person.

The Martians love to shake hands with other people. When they do so they feel that they have connected with the other person. Even if the person they meet does not extend his or her hand, a Martian will grab the person's hand and shake it.

When Martians speak to someone they look directly at the person's face.

Martians do not think it is rude to call people by their first name.

Martian boys and girls act the same but Martian boys particularly love to talk to foreign girls the most. Martian girls also love to talk to foreign boys the most.

The Martians want to talk with as many foreigners as they can. They don't want to talk for a long time. Rather, they want to say "I have met a lot of people and become friendly with all of them."

You are from Earth

The Earthlings are ALWAYS together. The Earthlings like to be with other Earthlings the most.

The Earthlings will never start a conversation with someone they do not know. If they are spoken to, they will speak. When they speak they will cross their arms.

The Earthlings are very formal. When they meet someone they will say "Greetings Sir (Madam), this is the first time we have met." After saying these words they think it is very rude to touch someone else's body.

The Earthling boys are weak and are always guarded by an Earthling girl.

Earthling boys always avoid looking at girls who they don't know in the eyes. Earthling boys will never talk with a girl who they do not know. With the mediation of an Earthling girl, they can talk to foreign girls.

Earthling boys can talk to other boys they do not know, but they will never speak first. They can also look another boy in the eyes.
